Two Organizations of Woolen Co. Employees to be Formed.

Organizers from the South Bend Central Labor union, who have been trying to organize a union among the boot and shoe makers at the Mishawaka Woolen Mfg. Co., were rewarded by a packed house at the Century theater Friday night when first steps were taken in the formation of the union.

Every seat in the Century theater, which has a seating capacity of 600, was taken, and more than 200 people were standing in rows around the walls of the theater. It was estimated by men who kept watch at the doors that between 200 and 250 men and women were refused admittance.

WOOLEN BAND IN GOOD SHAPE THIS SEASON

Annual Meeting Held and Officers Appointed—Thayer Again Director.

At the annual meeting of the Woolen Co. band, the election of officers was held and resulted as follows: President, James Nettleton; vice president, Homer Scott; recording secretary, Ben Peters; financial secretary, Don Hunter; treasurer, M. G. Huennenkopf; director, F. D. Thayer; assistant director, James Deard; trustees, L. T. McCollum; Charles Futterknecht and Will Myers.

The report and statement of the trustees were read and accepted. They showed the organization to be in splendid shape financially; and one of the best in the state from a musical standpoint. The auditor's report showed 45 pay jobs played in 1915 with receipts from this source at $2,232.

Director Thayer stated that the band could play a concert program every day for two weeks and not use the same number twice. The band library contained over 200 concert pieces, and Mr. Thayer said the band is in a position to play any number that he might select without practice. They also are constantly working on new numbers, both standard and popular.

If arrangements now under consideration work out favorably, the citizens of Mishawaka and South Bend will have an opportunity to hear some real music this summer.

Those who made talks last night were Charles E. Miller, president of the Central Labor union, South Bend; Travis Smith, business agent of the Building Trades union of South Bend; Robert Seymour, president of the Trades union; E. E. Gardner and William Simpson.

Sunday afternoon a meeting of committees appointed by the different unions of South Bend will meet there to hear a talk by Emmett Flood of Chicago, national organizer of the American Federation of Labor. They will make plans to help the new organization here, and try to boost the membership.

At the women's meeting next week, Miss Margaret Haley of Chicago, an organizer of the Garment Workers of America, and a teacher in the Chicago schools, will address the women.

CROWDS EXPECTED AT ANNUAL "M" CIRCUS

Sale of tickets for the "Big M" circus to be held at the local high school April 28 was started Friday morning.

The show this year will be the largest and most complete that has ever been held. All the four floors of the building will be utilized by the various attractions. The performance will be continuous from 7 to 12 o'clock. A large crowd is expected by the circus committee. Posters will be put in all the prominent store windows in the business district. Most of the classes and societies have appointed committees to look after their floats for the parade which will start at noon from the school and traverse the principal streets of the city. It will keep up the traditions of all real circuses, and will probably be half an hour or so late. Several beautiful and picturesque float plans have been submitted to the parade manager.

The circus will have an unusually large number of clowns, the fun-makers of all big top shows to amuse the children. Pains have been taken to have some form of entertainment to suit the taste of everybody.

Red lemonade, "hot dogs" and unchewable gum will be some of the things that will give the affair the atmosphere of the real thing. A large crowd of barkers has been secured who will let the people know of the performances behind the canvas curtains. The police force will be on the job as usual, enforcing the law and keeping the crowds moving.
